About the 4-H Market Livestock Project

4-H Programs are developed to nurture life skills through hands on learning. Youth enrolled in the Market Livestock Project are required to attend educational meetings, keep husbandry records, and raise their animals to industry standards. Participants are taught how to market their animals (and themselves) and encouraged to advocate for the agricultural community.

The project culminates in August when youth-raised animals are sold at auction during the Cayuga County 4-H Youth Fair. Buyers are recruited by those selling their project animals in the auction.

Get Involved

Become a Sponsor

Local businesses, organizations and individuals are invited to participate in this powerful learning experience and make a donation to help our youth meet their goals, reward them for all of their hard work and their commitment to becoming the leaders of tomorrow.

During the spring, youth enrolled in the Livestock Market Program raise animals to be shown during the summer 4-H Livestock Show and the subsequent auction.

All sponsors and donations receive recognition before, during, and after the 4-H Youth Fair in recognition of our gratitude.

Business name displayed in the auction catalog, on the CCE website, and on signs displayed at the 4-H Youth Fair.

Businesses thanked by name on 4-H social media.

Opportunities for sponsorship of specific tents, events, prizes, or t-shirts for more prominent display of your business name and logo. Contact Program Lead Sara Wagner at smw352@cornell.edu to find out more.

NOTE: The Cayuga County 4-H Livestock Show & Sale fund raising efforts operate under the auspices of Cornell Cooperative Extension, Cayuga County, a 501(c)3 organization. Donations are tax-deductible to the full extent of the law, and you will receive an official receipt for your donation.
